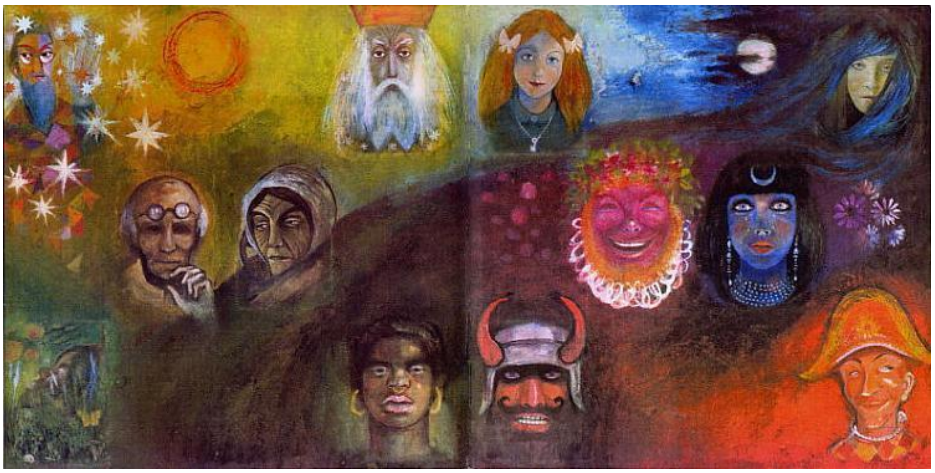
Chiron and Lilith:

Archetypes of the 'Outsider' in Astrology



In astrology Chiron symbolises 'the wound' & 'the wounded healer', Lilith the intuitive feminine wisdom & lost core instincts.

They both deal with wounds and trauma. Where Chiron becomes a healer by working with his own incurable wound: Lilith deals with the denial of trauma and repression; digging it up by facing the shadows and the rage that follows, before she restores her connection with the universe again.

In myth Lilith ends up as an outcast because the refuses to be dominated. She is part of the Earth, a relic of the ancient intuitive snake goddesses of pre-Christian religion. Chiron is an outsider: a planetoid who came from someplace else, probably the Kuiper Belt, and got drawn into the magnetic field of our solar system.

Both energies are a channel to our spirituality & and authentic Self and give our live a deeper meaning.
