

Secondary Progression and Solar Arc: the 'Inner Cosmos' Revealed

Throughout the history of astrology, astrologers invented different methods of projecting a natal chart into the future. "Secondary Progression" has been the most important one and can be regarded as a system of symbolic timing.

Solar Arc and Secondary Progressions describe the Cosmos in slow motion; one day of 'above' equals one year of 'below'. Both methods are used for identifying important developmental times in a person's life and are powerful predictive tools. One of the key differences between the two methods is that in Solar Arc we also advance the slower moving planets (Jupiter through to Pluto).

During this 1-day workshop we will explore Secondary Progressions and Solar Arc as two powerful predictive tools and helpful timing devices. We will learn how to calculate the movement of Solar Arc planets based on the natal chart.
